PHILOSOPHY OF CARE

Our stated values of integrity, dignity, respect, safety, teamwork and responsiveness guide our care. These values exemplify who we are at the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute (PPI) and make us unique providers of mental healthcare in central Pennsylvania.

MISSION

Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute is committed to providing a wide range of high-quality behavioral health services. PPI is dedicated to providing clinical excellence, diverse education, research and community collaboration in a manner that evolves to meet the changing behavioral healthcare needs of the region.

VISION

The vision of Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute is to be the trusted leader in delivering the highest quality behavioral health services, education and research.

VALUES

Integrity: We will do the right thing even when we are not being watched.

Respect: We will show regard and consideration to all.

Safety: We will take deliberate actions to minimize risk for personal harm or danger.

Teamwork: We will cooperate and coordinate all efforts.

Responsiveness: We will take deliberate actions based on the needs of the region.

Dignity: We will guard a person’s reputation and encourage the development of their self-worth. We will also behave in a way that only brings honor to the organization.
ABOUT

The Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute (PPI), a collaboration of Penn State Health and UPMC Pinnacle, is central Pennsylvania’s leader in helping people with psychiatric and substance use disorders achieve and maintain stability in their daily lives.

Created in 2008 through a partnership of two leading healthcare systems, PPI has a comprehensive team of specialists who provide sensitive, compassionate care for children, adolescents, adults and mature adults through personalized treatment plans that meet unique patient needs.

Located in Harrisburg, PPI has a modern 89-bed, inpatient facility at its Polyclinic campus at 2501 North Third Street and two convenient locations offering outpatient services, the Division Street Clinic and the Third Street Clinic.
I have been with the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute a relatively short time. During that time, I have been continually impressed by our outstanding staff and the many programs and services helping area residents in need.

Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute provides a full range of care in one place—from inpatient care to partial programs to outpatient services. Wherever patients are in the care continuum, we have the services to support them and to continue their treatment for those in need.

And our work is making a difference.

Through participation in research programs and grants, PPI is bringing some of the most innovative mental health treatments to central Pennsylvania. The range, depth and quality of the programs we offer are unmatched in the region.

Also unmatched is the quality of our team. Our staff consists of leaders in their fields. Not only are they knowledgeable in the latest treatments, they bring compassion and empathy to their work. The well-being of the patient—and not their diagnosis—remain our focus. I am proud of their work and grateful for their commitment to our patients.

I am also grateful for the outstanding support we receive from UPMC Pinnacle and Penn State Health. Their unwavering commitment makes it possible for us provide the innovative, high-quality care that the community deserves.

The work we do is very important, and we appreciate the opportunity to do it. In my brief time here, I have learned that PPI is a very special place.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Feeman, MHA

Message from the Chief Medical Officer

This past year has been an exciting time as we’ve expanded on previous successes and worked to build a stronger foundation for the future care and treatment of our patients. I am proud of the many accomplishments we’ve made and none of this would have been possible without outstanding providers to support these efforts.

This year, we’ve worked to build a team of leading physicians and nurse practitioners who share PPI’s values and vision. To recruit and retain providers, we’ve enhanced clinical, education, research and administrative operations to make PPI a place where patients want to come for great care and where providers want to stay for a rewarding and fulfilling career.

Among these efforts:

- We enhanced our high-quality team by adding seven new faculty members to strengthen the staffing of our inpatient services.
- We introduced the Opioid Treatment Program (OTP) at our Memorial location, and are launching other programs to help meet the challenges of the opioid epidemic.
- We expanded education and research for our faculty, including providing training in suicide prevention using the Columbia-Suicide Severity Rating Scale.
- We established a research committee at PPI which has supported our efforts to apply for grants, and allowed us to participate in a number of research programs. Examples of new research initiatives have included the Pennsylvania Coordinated Medication Assisted Therapy (PACMAT) state grant, recovery education with nurses, a long-term antipsychotic pediatric safety trial with Duke University and a community service grant to help families and patients who survived Hurricane Maria.

It has been an exciting and rewarding year, and I look forward to continuing to grow our team and the services we provide to our patients.

Sincerely,

Elisabeth Kunkel, MD

Community Education

Through surveys and focus groups with our community members, they expressed that one of their biggest needs was getting more education about mental health issues and treatments. To meet that need, PPI provides free training on mental health disorders and identifying signs and symptoms of mental health. These programs are made available to organizations which may help individuals get to services sooner, before a crisis unfolds or give support and resources which may help prevent an individual from being hospitalized.

Training Available for:

- Emotional Wellness (youth)
- Cyber Bullying and Suicide Presentation
- Suicide Prevention
- Mental Health Signs and Symptoms
- Depression in Mothers
- Access to PPI Services
- Mental Health Training Adults and Children

Opioid use disorder is everywhere—and central Pa. is no different. Pennsylvania has some of the highest overdose rates in our nation—that’s at least one overdose a day from central Pa. hospitals. In 2018, it is believed that over 120 people died by overdose in Dauphin County alone.

The epidemic is overwhelming, but it is important to remember that people do recover. It is possible to overcome addiction. You are not alone. It’s just a matter of reaching out for help, and then getting connected with effective, evidence based, comprehensive treatment.

PPI is providing that help with their innovative Advancement In Recovery (AIR) Program. Through a combination of Medication-Assisted Treatment—or MAT—and intensive counseling, people with opioid use disorder are getting a second chance to live a fulfilling life.

We treat patients with respect and compassion. Substance use disorder is a medical issue—a progressive, chronic disease—and we approach it with a prescribed set of treatments like any other disease.
Investment In Our Staff

PPI is committed to providing training opportunities that allow for the growth of staff members and the organization. Ongoing trainings produce a stronger team which in turn provides better service and care to our patients. Here’s a look at some of the trainings provided:

- Compassion Fatigue
- Competency Fair
- Computer-based Learning Modules
- Co-Occurring Training
- CPR
- Group Training
- Health Literacy
- IV Training
- Leadership Workshop
- Mental Health Workshop
- Nonviolent Crisis Intervention Training (CPI)
- Preceptor Workshop
- Suicide Prevention
- Trauma-Informed Care

Continuing Education

PPI continues to be an Approved Provider Unit for Continued Education Units (CEUs) through Pennsylvania State Nursing Association. PPI provided CEUs for 71 percent of the internal trainings that were held. These CEUs were available to RNs as well as staff who are licensed through the State Board of Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors.

In addition to the trainings offered internally, staff members used continuing education funds to attend external trainings. Staff members also used funds available through our Education Assistance Program to further their education.
Patient Financial Services (PFS) is raising the bar. Through a range of accreditations, their team is keeping abreast of the latest developments in their field while making sure to provide top-notch service to patients.

“To be a successful organization, you need to be around successful people and give them the tools and opportunities to grow,” said Lisa Laudeman, CRCE-I, CRCE-P, Patient Accounts Manager. “These certifications take our team and PPI to the next level. The team acquires well-rounded idea of the best practices used at the nation’s leading hospitals.”

PFS includes customer service, billing, follow up, eligibility and benefits—anything related to the revenue cycle. The staff needs to know collection law and compliance rules, as well as the technical side of their positions.

Nationally Recognized Accreditation

“Sometimes because of the extra level of training, we can resolve problems before the patient sees them—so their experience continues to be positive.”

— Lisa Laudeman, CRCE-I, CRCE-P, Patient Accounts Manager

The team received their accreditations from the American Association of Healthcare Administrative Management (AAHAM). AAHAM is the premier professional organization in healthcare administrative management, and the only organization dedicated exclusively to the revenue cycle.

“This rigorous accreditation process enables us to do billing more proficiently—accuracy increases and claims are paid properly. And we are better able to help patients when they call,” explained Laudeman.
RECOGNIZING OUTSTANDING PATIENT CARE

The DAISY and BEE Awards

Everyone has a story to tell. And through special programs at PPI, inpatients are getting to tell stories about the outstanding care they receive from the nursing and non-nursing staff.

Over the past several years, PPI has rolled out two programs that collect patient stories about the wonderful care they receive.

The DAISY Program is a national award for nurses started by the family of Patrick Barnes who died of a rare disease but received outstanding care from his nurses. The BEE Program is for non-nursing staff such as technicians, social workers, care coordinators, therapist and even physicians.

“We know our staff does a tremendous job, but we don’t know everything they do for our patients,” said Theresa Terry-Williams, Chief Nursing Officer. “It’s nice to have the patients tell their stories about how our staff impacted their lives.”

When she walks onto the unit, into the nursing station or in a client’s room, it feels like a candle has entered the darkness.

PPI started participating in the national DAISY Program in 2016 to recognize its nurses. That program was such a success, PPI also wanted to recognize non-nursing staff and created the BEE Award—Be Extraordinary Every day. “We call it the BEE Award because just like a daisy can’t survive without bee pollination, nurses can’t survive without their support team,” Terry-Williams said.
